8:30—"Polly of the Circus," as monologue by Lulu Tyler Gates.

A large crowd is in town today to hear United States Senator Thomas P. Gore, the blind senator from Oklahoma, at the Chautauqua this afternoon. It is expected that this will be the largest attendance of the Chautauqua. Senator Gore arrived Saturday noon over the Burlington from Maysville, Mo., where he spoke at the Chautauqua Friday afternoon. He is traveling alone. Many of our people expected to meet Mrs. Gore, and will be disappointed, as she is not with him on this trip to the west.

Senator Gore was met at the station by Mayor Arthur Robey, W. A. Blagg and James Todd, who escorted him to the Linville hotel.

When Senator Gore was asked what the prospects were for a Democratic Victory next year nationally, he responded if a good program was given them, and he has not been disappointed. The Chautauqua has been a success, notwithstanding the drought, far beyond the expectations of the manager.

Easily the largest crowd of the season was in attendance at the lecture of Ralph Parlette Friday evening. His subject, "The University of Hard Knocks," as he himself said, when boiled down would consist of the sentence, "Tomorrow is better than today." He pleaded for optimism all the way through. That today is the best day of a person's life, because it carries with it all past experiences, he continually emphasized. His talk was not a lecture but a confession, so he said, and it was largely made up of experiences in his own life from his childhood in a mining town, his early struggles and bitterness, to his present happy state in life.

The entertainments of the Apollo Concert company were largely attended, too, and they pleased their audiences to the largest extent possible. Their main entertainment changed from the evening to the afternoon, and their long prelude to the evening's program gave Friday its share of the musical part of the Chautauqua.

The numbers covered a wide range of taste, and played on the many different instruments gave a pleasing variety to all their performances.

Mr. Morse's violin recital Saturday morning was very informal, which only served to make it more interesting to those present. His audience was small, but was made up of true music lovers, and he gave them his best. The people of Maryville are acquainted with the members of the Morse-Quarles company, and are not wrong in expecting them to give as good music as any which has yet been given.

A band concert was given by the Maryville band Saturday morning before the recital.

Returned to Kansas City.

Mrs. C. S. Heimbauch and daughter, Maxine, who have been visiting her brothers, G. P. and E. H. Balum and Art and Shell Garten, and their families of this city, and Stant Garten and family of Pickering, left for her home in Kansas City Saturday morning. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Hannah Garten, who has been visiting her sons since last March.

Miss Phoebe Bramblett of Burlington Junction came Friday to visit Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Baker. Mr. and Mrs. Baker have another guest in their granddaughter, Miss Bernice Baker, living north of the city, who is attending the Chautauqua.

Latest stationery for correspondence at Crane's.

News of Society and Womens' Clubs

Social Affairs at the Chautauqua.

Mrs. Anna Hotchkiss, Mrs. Sarah Wilson and Miss Helen McNellis were guests at "The Castle of Fairies" Friday night. Miss Myra Hon of Plattsburg, who has been the guest of one of the hostesses at this camp, Miss Gertrude Blair, left Saturday morning for a visit at Whiting, Kan.

Gentleman Eddie Gray, who has served everybody so well at the Chautauqua grounds, left Saturday with Company F for its annual encampment. "Hum Drum Camp" has a wide band of mourning around it. But they are not the only folks who will miss him.

"Dew Drop In Camp" lost two of its guests Saturday morning. Christopher Cummins of Ford City and Frank Buckley of Lamar, Col. The Ford City young man returned to his home, accompanied by the Colorado young man, who, with his mother, Mrs. Daniel Buckley, are spending a few days in the city.

Camp Knabb entertained Mr. and Mrs. John Vert and Mrs. Leslie at supper Friday evening.

The guests at "Twilight Camp," Friday evening, where Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Yeomans and Mrs. N. P. Humber are host and hostesses, were Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Seelman and sons and little daughter.

Mrs. George B. Baker was the chaperon at Hum Drum Camp Friday night, and with Mr. Baker were the guests at supper. When supper was called each girl said to the others, "Is supper ready?" "Yes," was the response, "I've fixed my part." And lo, each had brought a dish of beans! Oh, you Hum Drums. And you had soda pop and crackers the other morning for breakfast, didn't you?

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Petty, Miss Hazel Petty, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Curfman and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Curfman and their four little girls, and Mrs. John Curfman, ate supper in Chautauqua park Friday evening.

The Young Ladies' Bridge Club Camp had for their guests at a chafing dish supper Friday evening Dr. Earl Braniger, Cleve Funk, Earl Barmann and Will Phares.

The Sigma Delta Chi sorority girls were having a good time Friday evening. They came into the big tent just before the concert, each with an ice cream cone. Did you ever watch the profile of a whole row of pretty girls eating on ice cream cones? If you haven't, you ought. It's such a funny pastime.

Miss Lucile Carter of Burlington Junction has been the guest all week of that unnamed camp of girls no one can find a name pretty enough, where Bessie Brown and Marie Wells and Ivy Hawkins and the rest, you know. She was their classmate in high school until she had typhoid fever last spring, but that didn't hinder their friendship any. These girls are watched over by Mrs. A. W. Hawkins and Misses Laura and Ada Hawkins, who are tenting close by.

Misses Mattie Bishop and Wilma Duffy of Ravenwood are the guests at Camp Allender.

For El Reno Visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. John Herren of East First street will entertain with a dinner Saturday evening to honor Mr. and Mrs. John Lester Funk and their two little boys, of El Reno, Okla., who are visiting in the city with their parents.

Mrs. Brown Very Ill.

Word came to Maryville from Kansas City Saturday morning by phone message from Mrs. Irl J. Walker to her husband, stating the serious illness from typhoid fever of Mrs. Joseph F. Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hastings. Mr. and Mrs. Walker have apartments at the Brown home. If Mrs. Brown's condition is not improved by Saturday evening at 6 o'clock Mrs. Hastings and her daughter, Mrs. Gay Leeper, will go to Kansas City Sunday morning. Mr. Walker will return to Kansas City Sunday.

Here from Arkansas.

Edward Tobin of DeQueen, Ark., arrived in Maryville Friday night on his annual visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Tobin. Mrs. Tobin, who has been visiting relatives in Maryville and at Clyde, has gone to Elmwood, Neb., to visit her sister, Mrs. William Jahn. Mr. Tobin will meet here there on their return home.

Miss Verna Kennedy of Bolckow is a Chautauqua guest of her sister, Mrs. Clarence Duncan.

STATEMENT FROM ALDERMAN FOSTER

August 19, 1911.—To the Public:

Of the above towns Shenandoah, Red Oak and Clarinda are in every way of the same class of towns as Maryville, and of about the same population, and when I see with my own eyes these towns in a prosperous condition and find that their citizens are getting water service at less than half what the Maryville Water company proposes to charge in the future, and also find from the U. S. census that from 1900 to 1910 Shenandoah increased in population 1,403, Clarinda 556, Red Oak 475, while Maryville increased less than 200, I feel there is no room for arguing that it will be to the disadvantage of Maryville to own her plant, but in every way to her advantage.

HENRY L. FOSTER.

THE WHIRLWINDS WON GAME OVER ALL-STARS

The Whirlwinds defeated the All-Star ball team Friday afternoon at Riffe's park by a score of 4 to 3. This was the third game of the series played between the two teams, and was the second victory for the Whirlwinds. The score:

R. H. E.

All-Stars ..... 111000000—3 5 1
Whirlwinds ..... 000000400—4 8 2
Batteries—Conley and Wiles; Holliday and Green. Umpire—Miller.

The line-up:

WERE CONVERTED TO MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

A party of five, consisting of Aldermen J. H. Gray and Henry L. Foster, Prof. B. F. Duncan, S. G. Gillam and W. C. Van Cleave, returned Friday evening from a tour of inspection covering 175 miles of the water plants and service of towns in Northwest Missouri and Southwestern Iowa. All were very favorably impressed with the possibilities of municipal ownership as evidenced in those towns that own their plants. At least two of the party were skeptical as to the advisability of the municipal idea when they left here, but on their return all believed that Maryville should own her own plant.

In every one of the towns visited they found good water, and in Shenandoah, Red Oak and Clarinda they found the tax levy for water was less than the amount necessary to pay for their fire hydrants at the rate Maryville is now paying. A detailed statement will be prepared of what they saw and learned, which will be published Monday for the benefit of those who are still seeking light on the subject.

Attended Chautauqua.

NEW POSTAL BANK

WAS OPENED SATURDAY AND ONLY $7 DEPOSITED.

WILL NOT BE POPULAR

There is a Great Deal of Red Tape About It—W. A. Miller was the First Depositor.

The Maryville postal savings bank opened Saturday morning, and W. A. Miller of the Bee Hive shoe store was the first depositor.

We do not think it will prove a popular thing. There is too much foolish red tape about it. It is already unpopular with our good-natured postmaster. We did not count the questions that have to be answered on the printed blank that has to be filled out by the depositor, nor did we read them all. But, ladies, you have to tell where you were born, how old you are, your full name and the full name of each of your parents, your mother's maiden name, their birthplace, and we don't know how many more things.

"Will you have an extra man to attend to the new department?" was asked.

"Oh, no!" said Postmaster Beech, with characteristic good humor. "I'm looking for the department to take away a man any day, now, and inform us that the army and navy has also been placed under our exclusive management as a diversion."

"What made the department do this thing?"

"No telling. I suppose Postmaster General Hitchcock wanted to do something to immortalize himself. I'd like to write his epitaph," said the postmaster, with an eager sort of a smile.

Up to Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, only $7 had been deposited.

REV. MILLER AND WIFE TAKE 10 DAYS' VACATION

Rev. Claude J. Miller and wife will leave Monday for Grundy Center, Ia., where they will visit for ten days with Mrs. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Wass. In case Rev. Miller is needed he can be reached by telephone at Grundy Center.

Visited Near Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. A. Edwards and her little daughter went to Hopkins in an automobile Friday evening and visited the family of Henry Russell. They were accompanied by Miss Beulah Russell, who returned to Hopkins Saturday.

Miss Hazel Livengood of Elmo spent Saturday in Maryville with Miss Zylpha Spoor. She will be accompanied home Saturday night by Miss Spoor, who will be her guest for a week.

pled that the Democratic party was in good shape, and it was his opinion that they would win. Senator Gore is in favor of Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey for the presidential nomination.

The Morse-Quarles Concert company gave a 45-minute program before Senator Gore's speech. A band concert was given by the Maryville band.

The Chautauqua will close Sunday evening, and that it has been a success is not questioned. Manager Landon is entitled to all the praise he is receiving for the splendid programs that have been given our people every day and the excellent manner in which he has provided for the comfort of all who attended and the care he has taken of those who have camped on the grounds during the week. Mr. Landon has carried on the entire management of the Chautauqua alone, and it was a task equal to the work of five men. No one wanted the job, but he realized the needs of our commu-

Taft's Surrender.

If the signs of the times be not wholly at fault, the president, by his veto of the wool bill, relinquishes a great section of the west to the Democratic party in 1912.

It is to be noted that the measure which thus receives his disapproval is no partisan affair. It has been demanded for years by Republicans as well as Democrats. So far as the politicians are concerned those who lead both parties have been pledged to it. Mr. Taft himself has more than once admitted the justice of the movement and more than once has promised to give it his assistance.

The plea that this is no time to accomplish this necessary reform and that it has not been brought about in the right way will satisfy neither western Republicans nor western Democrats. Justice and reason and fair play have all seasons for their own and the time to do right is always now.

Moreover, it is certain that the president's reasons will not be accepted as in perfect good faith. No one knows better than he that reform is difficult and must be accomplished in many cases by compromise and on the half loaf principle. Those who stand rigidly for what they conceive to be perfection are often the most powerful foes of true progress.

Notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Taft thus affronts a great majority of the people of the west of all parties, the patriotic Democrat can find pleasure in his amazing stultification. He not only misses a splendid opportunity to do right, but he deliberately rejects popular good will and everlasting fame. He might have been a Lincoln or a Peel. He prefers to be remembered as the partisan of a class. He might have endeared his name forever to the homes of millions who toll. He chooses the applause that proceeds from a few counting houses and soon passes into everlasting silence.

Nothing remains for western Democrats and Republicans who have united for this fight but to persist in their efforts and to continue their alliance until victory is assured. They have reason to be disappointed, but none whatever to be down-hearted. A great hope has failed them, a great opportunity has been rejected and a great career has been blighted needlessly, but the cause is by no means lost.

With wise Democratic leadership it should be easily possible next year to elect to the presidency a man who will keep his pledges and who will seek the approval of the millions rather than that of the few. If in this undertaking hundreds of thousands of progressive western Republicans take part Mr. Taft will have no one to blame but himself.—The Republic.

What's the Matter With Thomas?

There are some names which seem peculiarly suited to royalty; Louis, for instance, has a kingly sound. Francis, George, Henry in both spellings, Charles, William, Edward and James all have served their turn. Johns there have been, and Stephens. I remember a Robert in Sicily and a Peter in Russia and Serbia. Frederick has often worn the crown, and royal honors are even now paid to Ferdinand in Bulgaria. But was there ever, anywhere, a king named Thomas? Oscars and even Haakens ascend the dais, but ever through all the centuries Thomas remains the subject, sometimes struggling up to a bishopric or an earldom, but never attaining the crown. Nicholas wears the imperial purple; Godfrey lord it over Jerusalem; Alexis struts in ermine; Alexanders fare forth to conquest; Julius and Leo don the triple crown, but Thomas, poor plebeian Thomas, has never a crown to his name. Now tell me, you who are wise in the occult influence of names, what is the matter with Tom?—London Idler.

Washington as a Humorist.

While president Washington's humor seemed to find expression in the diplomacy of self protection. A French revolutionist came to him for a general testimonial, which Washington did not care to grant, yet he did not wish to give offense to the French by a curt refusal, so he wrote an evasive card worthy of Lincoln—"C. Volney needs no recommendation from G. Washington."

After Cornwallis' surrender at Yorktown Washington treated him with high consideration. At a dinner given in honor of the distinguished prisoner Rochambeau proposed "The United States" as his toast; Washington responded with "The king of France"; Cornwallis, perforce, faintly suggested "His majesty," when Washington startled them all by announcing, "The king of England—may he stay there!" with a ready wit that made even Cornwallis laugh.—Century.

Cards and Card Playing.

In a paper in the Journal of the Royal Society of Arts Professor H. Cheney, discussing the part played by gambling in magic, observes: "The use of cards is said to be derived from the Turot cards, which were originally employed for occult purposes. The legend which ascribes the invention of cards to the purpose of amusing a mad king does not seem at all a sufficient explanation, and there is in addition the fact that cards of a kind existed before the said king. In further support of this idea the well known practice of telling fortunes by cards may probably be regarded as a survival of a regular form of divination by such means. It seems, in fact, that card playing for stakes is a mere development of a ceremony in which individuals consulting the oracle decided to abide by its pronouncements as to the holding of disputed property."

A Laboring Man's Reasons for Advocating Municipal Ownership.

To The Democrat-Forum: Believing figures to be generally uninteresting and tiresome, I will address you, using them as little as necessary. I believe that all are agreed that a good water plant, private or municipal, furnishing plenty of good water at good pressure, increases the value of property; therefore, if we have a good private water plant, property value is increased at the increased cost of water to the consumers. This increased cost is made up of the amount of taxes possible to levy under municipal ownership, outside manager's salary, state, county and city taxes, the difference between 4½ and 6 per cent interest, besides other things you can find and some you cannot find. After covering all the items and at the present water rate the company admits having made almost 5 per cent on $100,000, which is considerably over their appraised value. So it is plain they made 6 per cent or more on the real value of their property. They tell you that the council has the authority under the law to regulate rates. The law does not give them the power to reduce the rates below a reasonable return on the investment. So you may be sure you are expected to cover the items mentioned, under what the property interests are pleased to call a "reasonable franchise." All this, then, consumer, you are asked to pay just for the privilege of increasing property value, thereby completely paying for a plant and not getting it. If you have no property you pay for increased value and get nothing. If you have a small assessment your increased water rates amount to more than would the taxes under municipal ownership, if levied. The law says we shall provide for the collection of an annual tax to insure a sinking fund and interest, when needed. East St. Louis v. Amy, 120 U. S. 509.

Don't overlook the words "when needed," as that brings us back to the beginning of this letter, which implies that a municipal ownership plant necessarily increases taxation. This is not so, and without a tax increase a municipal plant can only decrease the rate to the consumer in the amount of the outside manager's salary, state, county and city taxes and other things found and not found. By keeping the water rates above the necessity of a tax the consumer will still pay for the plant. The difference is having or not having it at the end of the twenty years.

Property never will pay its way (see the law for ways of escape), and if they can't make the consumer pay for the plant and not have it, he must at least pay for it. Because of the remote possibility of a tax increase, which exists, property hides behind such phrases as "Everybody's business is nobody's business," "graft," "our town row," "If you could just keep it out of politics," "reasonable franchise," and a lot of other similar expressions that progress ignores. Property thinks it is all right for the consumer to pay its enhanced value, even if he has to go without clothes to keep clean with high priced water.

"Mankind passes, property stays, And seeks to gather from the man who pays."

TRADE REVIEW FOR THE WEEK

Business Sentiment Everywhere Reported Much Improved.

ACTUAL BUSINESS PICKING UP

Wholesale Operations Include Wide Variety of Fall and Winter Goods and Orders Compare Favorably With Last Year.

New York, Aug. 19.—R. G. Dun's Weekly Review of Trade says: Sentiment is improved at Boston with a prevailing belief that business will soon be much better. Dry goods jobbers report a fair demand and orders are well distributed. Indications appear of expansion in industrial activity, although curtailment is still drastic at cotton mills. Men's wear woolen mills, however, are booking a good volume of business, shoe factories are busy and wool trading is brisk.

Slow progress is noted at Philadelphia, merchants in most lines confining their operations as much as possible to actual requirements. Manufacturers are buying cotton and woolen goods to some extent, while wool millinery sale houses are busy with preparations for fall and report inquiries very encouraging.

The wool market is more active and very firm.

With industrial plants increasing operations to a moderate extent there is more optimism in commercial lines at Pittsburgh and wholesalers of dry goods, notions and shoes receive good orders for future delivery.

Numerous visiting buyers have stimulated trade activity at Baltimore, especially in wholesale lines. Local retail merchants were well patronized, the reduced prices incidental to this season of the year attracting many buyers. The outlook for fall in the wholesale dry goods and notion market is exceptionally good. Normal conditions prevailed at New Orleans, retail trade being considered satisfactory and a good demand developing for plantation supplies. Visiting merchants are increasing in numbers at St. Louis, and while purchases are usually along conservative lines, stocks of dry goods have been considerably reduced. Retail trade improved slowly, hot weather retarding business in a measure. Numerous buyers are in the different markets at Kansas City and jobbers generally report conditions excellent, with prospects for a good fall trade very encouraging.

Dealings in retail lines at Chicago were favorably stimulated by the large numbers of visitors attracted by the aviation meet. Wholesale operations include a wider variety of fall, winter and holiday goods and road and mail orders compare well with this time last year. Improvement appears in certain lines at Cincinnati, notably dry goods and groceries and there is a much better inquiry for pig iron with considerable actual business placed. Cleveland reports that trade in nearly all retail branches is slow and unsatisfactory and dealings at wholesale show no special activity. Building operations are still brisk, however, and several permits for large new structures have been issued.

Wholesale business continues quiet at Minneapolis with orders being placed for immediate requirements only. The general undertone throughout the northwest is good, however, and stocks of merchandise are not burdensome. Abundance of rain has repaired much of the early damage by drought and threshing returns are proving better than expected. Some improvement is noted in wholesale trade, the St. Paul buyers operating with more freedom in dry goods, clothing, hats and caps.

WILLIAM S. HOWARD.

Congressman Who Asks National Conference On Problem of Divorce.

DIVORCE PROBLEM BEFORE CONGRESS

Two Resolutions Provide for National Conference.

Washington, Aug. 19.—Congress has turned its attention to the abuses that arise from the wide difference in the laws of divorce and marriage throughout the states.

Representatives George W. Norris and W. H. Howard have introduced resolutions requesting President Taft to ask the governors of the states to send representatives to a congress of delegates to be held in the hall of the house of representatives to formulate a uniform law of marriage and divorce and to submit the same to the legislatures.

It is proposed that each state be entitled to two delegates, and each delegate shall be entitled to receive his actual necessary expenses in going to, attending and returning from the sessions.

The congress shall report its findings and recommendations to the president, who shall forward the same to the states, with the request to each governor that he lay the report before the legislature.

For the purpose of defraying the expense of the congress it is proposed to appropriate $200,000 or so much as may be necessary. The resolution was referred to the rules committee and if there be time will be considered at this session.

Senator C. D. Clark of Wyoming has suggested a constitutional amendment which would place the regulation of divorce with the federal government.

POSSE SIGHTS FUGITIVES

Pursuers of Slayers of Butcher Fire Shots at Fleeing Men.

Logan, Ia., Aug. 19.—So close was the pursuing posse to the murderers of Deputy Marshal Butcher of Missouri Valley that a dozen or more shots were taken at the fleeing men at a distance of eighty-five yards, but it is believed none of the shots took effect. A severe wind storm, accompanied by sharp lightning and a deluge of rain enabled the fugitives to escape and the posse returned to Mondamin, Ia., from which place a new start will be made.

YIELDED TO EDMUNDS.

Cleveland's Political Fox Won After His Friends Had Failed.

Soon after Mr. Cleveland entered the White House in 1885 Vice President Hendricks died at his home in Indianapolis, and the president made arrangements to attend the funeral. Many of his social intimates and all his official advisers united in an effort to dissuade him from making this twenty-four hour journey, enlarging on the manifold risks of rail travel at all times and the special opportunity this would offer some fanatic to assassinate him. But he remained immovable and within a few hours of the time set for closing up his business he received an unexpected call from Senator Edmunds of Vermont.

Mr. Edmunds was the leader of the Republican side of the senate and was understood to have in preparation several measures of opposition to the announced policies of the new administration. But he was also above all else an American citizen and a patriot, and his visit to his political foe was made in that character. In a conversation of less than half an hour, in which he drew the curtain over all differences and disregarded all empty formalities of intercourse, he laid before the president in the clearest terms and logical order in which he knew so well how to express himself the larger aspects of the situation.

As the presidential succession law then stood the speaker of the house of representatives stood next in line to the vice president, and next to him came the president pro tempore of the senate. The house not having organized since the inauguration, no speaker had been elected, and the senate having failed at its special session to choose a president pro tempore to serve during the recess, only one life—that of the president himself—stood between the nation and administrative anarchy; hence, argued Mr. Edmunds, it was Mr. Cleveland's duty to forego every other consideration and invite no chances of throwing upon the country they both loved a strain such as it had never been subjected to before.

The writer of these lines was seated in the next room while this visit was in progress, and he will never forget the president's expression of satisfaction on coming out of his office after the senator had gone. He gave orders at once that all preparations for his journey should be suspended and declared that nothing that had occurred since he entered the White House had so touched him as the kind solicitude shown by Mr. Edmunds about his exposing himself to any peril now. The others who had reasoned with him on the subject were men who were presumptively friendly and whose chief anxiety seemed to be lest he should suffer some injury to his individual person or fortunes. But here was a man who, as far as politics was concerned, was a hostile of hostiles, yet who appealed to him in behalf of the American people and their government.

"That settled it," Mr. Cleveland concluded as he turned to go back to his office. "After what Edmunds said there can be no further question of where my highest obligation lies."—E. E. L. in New York Post.

Soft Toned Bells of China.

The natives of China use large bells of their own make in many of their temples and monasteries. I have noticed all through Japan and China that the tone of the monastery and temple bells is very soft and smooth, due to the superior quality of the material used in their manufacture and to the absence of iron clappers, the result being a marvelous softness and mellowness of tone. The bells are never swung, being always suspended in a fixed frame, and the sound is produced by striking them on the outer edge with a wooden mallet. This makes the soft tones which are so delightfully melodious. Consular Reports.

One of the best repartees ever credited to a habitual maker of happy phrases was that made by the beloved "Autocrat of the Breakfast Table" on a certain social occasion.

Going to dine with a Boston neighbor, Dr. Holmes was met by her with an apology:

"I could not get another man. We are four women, and you will have to take us all in."

"Forewarned is fourarmed," he said with a bow.

Flies and Filth.

The fly is born in, lives and thrives upon filth. If no filth is allowed to accumulate in a house or its neighborhood it will not be troubled by flies, for they do not ordinarily stray far from their breeding places and their sources of food. In a thoroughly clean neighborhood they cannot live in the face of screens preventing their access to food and to the absence of manure heaps and other receptacles for filth in which to deposit their eggs.—Survey.

Peruna Secrets You Should Know

Golden Seal, the root of the above plant, is a very useful medicine. Many people gather it in our rich woodlands during the summer. Few people know how valuable it is in dyspepsia, catarrh, and as a general tonic.

Many thousands of pounds of this root are used each year in the famous catarrh remedy, Peruna. This fact explains why everybody uses Peruna for catarrh.

HOUSE FAILS TO OVERRIDE VETOES

Wool Bill is Killed by Vote of 227 to 126.

FREE LIST LOSES, 226 TO 127

President Declares It is impossible to Tell What Articles Are Covered. Tariff Board Had No Opportunity to Report on Schedules.

Washington, Aug. 19.—After a long debate on a motion to pass the wool tariff revision bill over President Taft's veto, the house failed to pass the measure by the necessary two-thirds vote, the result being 227 to 129. This kills the wool bill.

President Taft's message, vetoing the farmers' free list bill, was read in the house. The president declared in his message that the bill was so carelessly drawn that it was uncertain just what articles were covered by it. He sharply criticized every section of the bill and declared the language too ambiguous to be practicable.

Mr. Taft objected to the principle in the bill which admits raw materials free and keeps the machinery necessary to a finished product on the dutiable list. Lastly, the president based his veto on the fact that the tariff board had no opportunity to report on the schedules affected by it.

The house failed to pass the free list bill over the president's veto, the vote being 224 to 127.

The Flood-Smith statehood resolution with the Arizona judiciary recall provision eliminated and with changes in New Mexico's constitution to make it easier of amendment was passed by the senate, 53 to 8.

WILEY CASE TO GO OVER

President Will Not Act Until After Congress Adjourns.

Washington, Aug. 19.—President Taft does not expect to settle the Wiley case before the adjournment of the present session of congress.

The closing days of the session have presented to him so many important matters that he has been unable to take up the case in detail. If adjournment comes within a few days the papers in the Wiley case will be taken by the president to Beverly.

He intends to read all the testimony offered before the house committee which is investigating the department of agriculture and other information bearing on the case which is available.

That there might be some criticism of officials of the department other than Dr. Wiley is the belief here.

All records of the department of agriculture embracing copies of pure food decisions or regulations changed "through the protests of interested manufacturers" will be called for by the committee.

Dr. Wiley, who made the request for the records, explained they were official printed regulations and decisions which had later been withdrawn and changed after the interested parties, the food manufacturers, had protested against them.

ADMITS TRAIN ROBBERY

Watson Confesses He Held Up Overland Limited.

Denver, Aug. 19.—A prisoner in the Denver county jail giving the name of Frank M. Watson has confessed that he with two companions held up the Southern Pacific Overland Limited at Reese, Utah, on the night of Jan. 1, when William Davis, a negro porter, was killed and nearly 100 passengers were relieved of their valuables.

According to police authorities, Watson says his accomplices were Joseph Collins of Omaha and R. M. Roberts of Mullen, Neb. It is stated that Watson has confessed complicity in the robbery of the Oregon Short Line Butte-Portland special three miles west of Ogden on the morning of June 27, 1910.

BRITISH CITIES ARMED CAMPS

Railroads Trying to Move Trains

Under Protection of Troops.

TRAFFIC BADLY DEMORALIZED.

Many Thousand Men Remain at Work but They Are Unable to Handle the Business—Riots Reported in Four Cities.

Progress of Labor War.

Scores of thousands of railway men in the United Kingdom are on strike.

The movement threatens to cripple 23,000 miles of steam railways.

Neither managers or employees seem disposed to deviate from their ultimatums.

Passenger traffic in London and other centers is demoralized; freight traffic throughout the kingdom is hampered.

Liverpool's steamship service is at a standstill.

Sporadic rioting occurred in various English cities and in Wales.

Troops everywhere are ready to quell disturbances.

Parliament remains in session because of the strike.

Scarcity of food is causing prices to advance.

The railways employ 500,000 men whose average weekly wage is less than $6.

London, Aug. 19.—The fight between the railroad companies and the striking union employees is on in dead earnest. Thousands have obeyed the strike order and other thousands have continued at work. The companies are operating their principal trains under modified schedules.

The government and the board of trade are continuing their efforts to ward peace, but the old deadlock between the unions and the managers appears to have reasserted itself.

The managers had a prolonged meeting with members of the board of trade, but as far as it is learned the railroad companies declined to budge from their stand of making no further concession beyond submitting the dispute to the royal commission suggested by the government.

The cities of England are armed camps. The stations, workshops, signal posts, tunnels and bridges are guarded by soldiers. Clerks have been pressed into service to aid the non-strikers in moving the trains.

Despite the efforts of the companies freight traffic is demoralized and the shortage of food supplies threatens a famine at some points.

There has been rioting at Birmingham, Derby, Sheffield and at Llanelli, Wales.

The government views the industrial war as so grave that Parliament did not adjourn as has been expected but will continue prepared to adopt any emergency legislation the moment it is necessary.

The trains in London were moving occasionally, but had scarcely any effect in reducing the mass of would-be travelers. Thousands living outside were unable to get home. The strike committee has decided to pay the strikers $2.50 a week.

NEW ALTITUDE MARK

Aviator Brindley Soars 11,700 Feet in Air at Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—Oscar A. Brindley soared higher in the air than any aeroplane ever has been and set a new world's record of 11,786 feet. Philip O. Parmelee followed him, passing the former American record and reached 10,827 feet before he was forced to descend.

James Ward and Earle Ovington, flying at comparatively low levels, both had narrow escapes from death. The propeller of Ward's machine broke into a hundred pieces as he flew before the grand stand and pieces of wood tore the canvas, but the aviator held tight and brought his machine wobbling to the ground. Ovington with his engine stopped, not quite able to reach shore, found a landing place in five feet of water, from which he escaped with no other injury than a ducking.

PRISONER OF HATE RELEASED

Woman Serves Twenty-Nine Days to Save Money for Willow Plume.

St. Louis, Aug. 19.—After being a voluntary prisoner of hate in the Clayton jail for twenty-nine days rather than pay $1 fine and $28.95 costs for pulling another woman's hair, Mrs. Ethel Marik was released.

"I'll get that willow plume in time to wear it Sunday," Mrs. Marik said to the other women prisoners as she bade them good-by.

Throughout her term of imprisonment, which separated her from her husband and her two small children, she was sustained by the thought of "that willow plume." When the judge gave her the alternative of going to jail or paying the fine, she said:

"I'll go to jail and save the money for a willow plume."

She would not let her mother or her husband pay the fine.

OSLER RIGHT; YOUTH SUCCEEDS AGE

Gray Hair Is First Sign of Age.

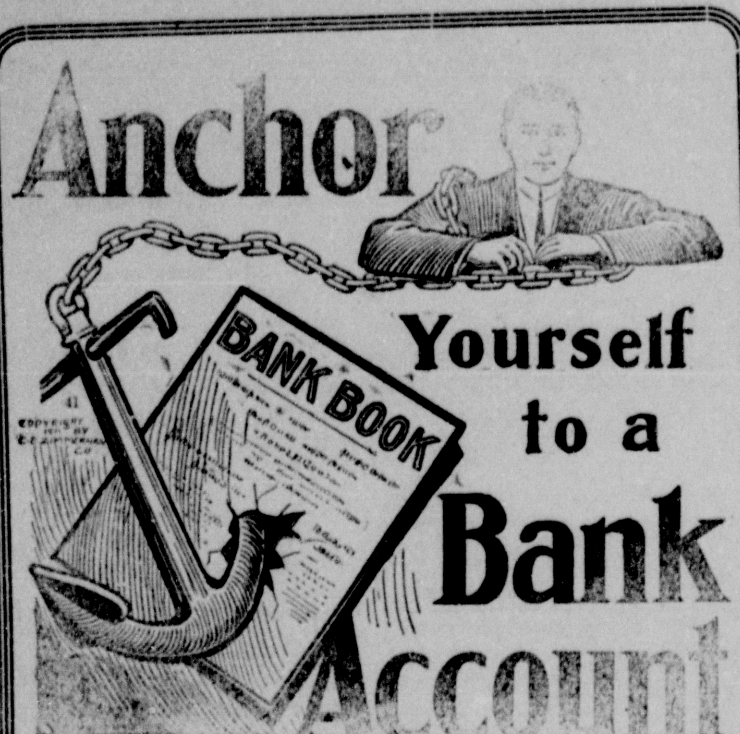

Harmless Remedy Restores to Natural Color.

Osler isn't the only man who turns down old age. In the business world the "young man" is always the one who picks the plums. It is an age of "new thought," "new talent," etc., and the old man is passed by in the race.

One of the first signs of coming age is the appearance of gray hairs. When you see them, act promptly. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will correct this sign, which so often deceives people into thinking that age is really upon them. It is a well-known fact that Sage and Sulphur will darken the hair. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur combines these old-time remedies with other agents, which remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize the druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, Koch Pharmacy.

5:00—Meeting of the Chautauqua committees in big tent.

Evening.

7:45—Morse-Quarles Concert company.

8:30—"Polly of the Circus," as monologue by Lulu Tyler Gates.

A large crowd is in town today to hear United States Senator Thomas P. Gore, the blind senator from Oklahoma, at the Chautauqua this afternoon. It is expected that this will be the largest attendance of the Chautauqua. Senator Gore arrived Saturday noon over the Burlington from Maysville, Mo., where he spoke at the Chautauqua Friday afternoon. He is traveling alone. Many of our people expected to meet Mrs. Gore, and will be disappointed, as she is not with him on this trip to the west.

Senator Gore was met at the station by Mayor Arthur Robey, W. A. Black and James Todd, who escorted him to the Linville hotel.

When Senator Gore was asked what the prospects were for a Democratic victory next year nationally, he responded if a good program was given them, and he has not been disappointed. The Chautauqua has been a success, notwithstanding the drought, far beyond the expectations of the manager.

Easily the largest crowd of the season was in attendance at the lecture of Ralph Parlette Friday evening. His subject, "The University of Hard Knocks," as he himself said, when boiled down would consist of the sentence, "Tomorrow is better than today." He pleaded for optimism all the way through. That today is the best day of a person's life, because it carries with it all past experiences, he continually emphasized. His talk was not a lecture but a confession, so he said, and it was largely made up of experiences in his own life from his childhood in a mining town, his early struggles and bitterness, to his present happy state in life.

The entertainments of the Apollo Concert company were largely attended, too, and they pleased their audiences to the largest extent possible. Their main entertainment changed from the evening to the afternoon, and their long prelude to the evening's program gave Friday its share of the musical part of the Chautauqua.

The numbers covered a wide range of taste, and played on the many different instruments gave a pleasing variety to all their performances.

Mr. Morse's violin recital Saturday morning was very informal, which only served to make it more interesting to those present. His audience was small, but was made up of true music lovers, and he gave them his best. The people of Maryville are acquainted with the members of the Morse-Quarles company, and are not wrong in expecting them to give as good music as any which has yet been given.

Returned to Kansas City.

Mrs. C. S. Reinbach and daughter, Maxine, who have been visiting her brothers, G. P. and E. H. Bainum and Art and Shell Gartin, and their families of this city, and Stant Gartin and family of Pickering, left for her home in Kansas City Saturday morning. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Hannah Gartin, who has been visiting her sons since last March.

Miss Phoebe Bramblett of Burlington Junction came Friday to visit Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Baker. Mr. and Mrs. Baker have another guest in their granddaughter, Miss Bernice Baker, living north of the city, who is attending the Chautauqua.

Social Affairs at the Chautauqua.

Mrs. Anna Hotchkiss, Mrs. Sarah Wilson and Miss Helen McNeills were guests at "The Castle of Fairies" Friday night. Miss Myra Hon of Plattsburg, who has been the guest of one of the hostesses at this camp, Miss Gertrude Blair, left Saturday morning for a visit at Whiting, Kan.

Gentleman Eddie Gray, who has served everybody so well at the Chautauqua grounds, left Saturday with Company F for its annual encampment. "Hum Drum Camp" has a wide band of mourning around it. But they are not the only folks who will miss him.

"Dew Drop In Camp" lost two of its guests Saturday morning. Christopher Cummins of Ford City and Frank Buckley of Lamar, Col. The Ford City young man returned to his home, accompanied by the Colorado young man, who, with his mother, Mrs. Daniel Buckley, are spending a few days in the city.

Camp Knabb entertained Mr. and Mrs. John Vert and Mrs. Leslie at supper Friday evening.

The guests at "Twilight Camp," Friday evening, were Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Yeomans and Mrs. N. F. Hummer are host and hostesses, were Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Seelman and sons and little daughter.

Mrs. George B. Baker was the chaperon at Hum Drum Camp Friday night, and with Mr. Baker were the guests at supper. When supper was called each girl said to the others, "Is supper ready?" "Yes," was the response, "I've fixed my part." And lo, each had brought a dish of beans! Oh, you Hum Drums. And you had soda pop and crackers the other morning for breakfast, didn't you?

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Petty, Miss Hazel Petty, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Curfman and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Curfman and their four little girls, and Mrs. John Curfman, ate supper in Chautauqua park Friday evening.

The Young Ladies' Bridge Club Camp had for their guests at a chafing dish supper Friday evening Dr. Earl Branigan, Cleve Funk, Earl Barmann and Will Phares.

The Sigma Delta Chi sorority girls were having a good time Friday evening. They came into the big tent just before the concert, each with an ice cream cone. Did you ever watch the profile of a whole row of pretty girls eating on ice cream cones? If you haven't, you ought. It's such a funny pastime.

Miss Lucile Carter of Burlington Junction has been the guest all week of that unnamed camp of girls no one can find a name pretty enough, where Bessie Brown and Marie Wells and Ivy Hawkins and the rest, you know. She was their classmate in high school until she had typhoid fever last spring, but that didn't hinder their friendship any. These girls are watched over by Mrs. A. W. Hawkins and Misses Laura and Ada Hawkins, who are tenting close by.

Misses Mattie Bishop and Wilson Duffy of Ravenwood are the guests at Camp Allender.

For El Reno Visitors.

Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hastings. Mr. and Mrs. Walker have apartments at the Brown home. If Mrs. Brown's condition is not improved by Saturday evening at 6 o'clock Mrs. Hastings and her daughter, Mrs. Gay Leeper, will go to Kansas City Sunday morning. Mr. Walker will return to Kansas City Sunday.

Here from Arkansas.

Edward Tobin of DeQueen, Ark., arrived in Maryville Friday night on his annual visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Tobin. Mrs. Tobin, who has been visiting relatives in Maryville and at Clyde, has gone to Elmwood, Neb., to visit her sister, Mrs. William Jahn. Mr. Tobin will meet here there on their return home.

Miss Verna Kennedy of Bolckow is a Chautauqua guest of her sister, Mrs. Clarence Duncan.

STATEMENT FROM ALDERMAN FOSTER

August 19, 1911.—To the Public:

Three or four days ago I was asked to sign with Mayor Robey and other members of the council a statement on the water question, but did not then feel fully convinced of the advisability of Maryville owning her water plant. In fact, I was rather opposed to the idea, but I have just returned from a personal inspection and investigation of the water service of Tarkio, Shenandoah, Red Oak, Villisca and Clarinda, all of which, except Tarkio, own their water plants, and I am now firmly of the opinion that Maryville should own her own plant and secure her water supply from wells.

Of the above towns Shenandoah, Red Oak and Clarinda are in every way of the same class of towns as Maryville, and of about the same population, and when I see with my own eyes these towns in a prosperous condition and find that their citizens are getting water service at less than half what the Maryville Water company proposes to charge in the future, and also find from the U. S. census that from 1900 to 1910 Shenandoah increased in population 1,403, Clarinda 556, Red Oak 475, while Maryville increased less than 200, I feel there is no room for arguing that it will be to the disadvantage of Maryville to own her plant, but in every way to her advantage.

HENRY L. FOSTER.

THE WHIRLWINDS WON GAME OVER ALL-STAR

The Whirlwinds defeated the All-Star ball team Friday afternoon at Riffe's park by a score of 4 to 3. This was the third game of the series played between the two teams, and was the second victory for the Whirlwinds. The score:

R. H. E.

Whirlwinds ..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 4 0 0 4 8 2
Batteries—Conley and Wiles; Holliday and Green. Umpire—Miller.

The line-up:
Whirlwinds—Green, catcher; Holli-day, pitcher; Miller, shortstop; Clifford, first base; Costello, second base; Dietz, third base; McDougal, left field; Cabbage, center field; Crandall, right field.

WERE CONVERTED TO MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

A party of five, consisting of Aldermen J. H. Gray and Henry L. Foster, Prof. B. F. Duncan, S. G. Gilman and W. C. Van Cleave, returned Friday evening from a tour of inspection covering 175 miles of the water plants and service of towns in Northwest Missouri and Southwestern Iowa. All were very favorably impressed with the possibilities of municipal ownership as evidenced in those towns that own their plants. At least two of the party were skeptical as to the advisability of the municipal idea when they left here, but on their return all believed that Maryville should own her own plant.

In every one of the towns visited they found good water, and in Shenandoah, Red Oak and Clarinda they found the tax levy for water was less than the amount necessary to pay for their fire hydrants at the rate Maryville is now paying. A detailed statement will be prepared of what they saw and learned, which will be published Monday for the benefit of those who are still seeking light on the subject.

Attended Chautauqua.

Misses Helen and Mildred Wamsley, May and Florence Shipps, Clara Kilder, Edna Gray and her guest, Miss Vera Hill of Stillwater, Okla.; Messrs. George Wamsley and Frank Gray, living south of Maryville, were among the visitors at the Chautauqua Friday night.

NEW POSTAL BANK

WAS OPENED SATURDAY AND ONLY $7 DEPOSITED.

WILL NOT BE POPULAR

There is a Great Deal of Red Tape About It—W. A. Miller was the First Depositor.

The Maryville postal savings bank opened Saturday morning, and W. A. Miller of the Bee Hive shoe store was the first depositor.

We do not think it will prove a popular thing. There is too much foolish red tape about it. It is already unpopular with our good-natured postmaster. We did not count the questions that have to be answered on the printed blank that has to be filled out by the depositor, nor did we read them all. But, ladies, you have to tell where you were born, how old you are, your full name and the full name of each of your parents, your mother's maiden name, their birthplace, and we don't know how many more things.

"Will you have an extra man to attend to the new department?" was asked.

"Oh, no!" said Postmaster Beech, with characteristic good humor. "I'm looking for the department to take away a man any day, now, and inform us that the army and navy has also been placed under our exclusive management as a diversion."

"What made the department do this thing?"

"No telling. I suppose Postmaster General Hitchcock wanted to do something to immortalize himself. I'd like to write his epitaph," said the postmaster, with an eager sort of a smile.

Up to Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, only $7 had been deposited.

REV. MILLER AND WIFE TAKE 10 DAYS' VACATION

Rev. Claude J. Miller and wife will leave Monday for Grundy Center, Ia., where they will visit for ten days with Mrs. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Wass. In case Rev. Miller is needed he can be reached by telephone at Grundy Center.

Visited Near Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. A. Edwards and her little daughter went to Hopkins in an automobile Friday evening and visited the family of Henry Russell. They were accompanied by Miss Beulah Russell, who returned to Hopkins Saturday.

Miss Hazel Livengood of Elmo spent Saturday in Maryville with Miss Zylpha Spoor. She will be accompanied home Saturday night by Miss Spoor, who will be her guest for a week.

Taft's Surrender.

If the signs of the times be not wholly at fault, the president, by his veto of the wool bill, relinquishes a great section of the west to the Democratic party in 1912.

It is to be noted that the measure which thus receives his disapproval is no partisan affair. It has been demanded for years by Republicans as well as Democrats. So far as the politicians are concerned those who lead both parties have been pledged to it. Mr. Taft himself has more than once admitted the justice of the movement and more than once has promised to give it his assistance.

The plea that this is no time to accomplish this necessary reform and that it has not been brought about in the right way will satisfy neither western Republicans nor western Democrats. Justice and reason and fair play have all seasons for their own and the time to do right is always now.

Moreover, it is certain that the president's reasons will not be accepted as in perfect good faith. No one knows better than he that reform is difficult and must be accomplished in many cases by compromise and on the half loaf principle. Those who stand rigidly for what they conceive to be perfection are often the most powerful foes of true progress.

Notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Taft thus affronts a great majority of the people of the west of all parties, the patriotic Democrat can find pleasure in his amazing stultification. He not only misses a splendid opportunity to do right, but he deliberately rejects popular good will and everlasting fame. He might have been a Lincoln or a Peel. He prefers to be remembered as the partisan of a class. He might have endeared his name forever in the homes of millions who toil. He chooses the applause that proceeds from a few counting houses and soon passes into everlasting silence.

Nothing remains for western Democrats and Republicans who have united for this fight but to persist in their efforts and to continue their alliance until victory is assured. They have reason to be disappointed, but none whatever to be down-hearted. A great hope has failed them, a great opportunity has been rejected and a great career has been blighted needlessly, but the cause is by no means lost.

With wise Democratic leadership it should be easily possible next year to elect to the presidency a man who will keep his pledges and who will seek the approval of the millions rather than that of the few. If in this undertaking hundreds of thousands of progressive western Republicans take part Mr. Taft will have no one to blame but himself.—The Republic.

Accused of Stealing.

E. E. Chamberlain of Clinton, Mo., boldly accuses Bucklen's Arnica Salve of stealing—the sting from burns or scalds—the pain from sores of all kinds—the distress from boils or piles. "It robs cuts, corns, bruises, sprains and injuries of their terror," he says, "as a healing remedy its equal don't exist." Only 25c at the Orrs-Henry Drug Co.

There are some names, which seem peculiarly suited to royalty; Louis, for instance, has a kingly sound. Francis, George, Henry in both spellings, Charles, William, Edward and James all have served their turn. Johns there have been, and Stephens. I remember a Robert in Sicily and a Peter in Russia and Servia. Frederick has often worn the crown, and royal honors are even now paid to Ferdinand in Bulgaria. But was there ever, anywhere, a king named Thomas? Oscars and even Haakens ascend the dais, but ever through all the centuries Thomas remains the subject, sometimes struggling up to a bishopric or an earldom, but never attaining the crown. Nicholas wear the imperial purple; Godfrey lord it over Jerusalem; Alexis struts in ermine; Alexanders fare forth to conquest; Julius and Leo don the triple crown, but Thomas, poor plebeian Thomas, has never a crown to his name. Now tell me, you who are wise in the occult influence of names, what is the matter with Tom?—London Idler.

Washington as a Humorist.

While president Washington's humor seemed to find expression in the diplomacy of self protection. A French revolutionist came to him for a general testimonial, which Washington did not care to grant, yet he did not wish to give offense to the French by a curt refusal, so he wrote an evasive card worthy of Lincoln—"C. Volney needs no recommendation from G. Washington."

After Cornwallis' surrender at Yorktown Washington treated him with high consideration. At a dinner given in honor of the distinguished prisoner Rochambeau proposed "The United States" as his toast; Washington responded with "The king of France"; Cornwallis, perforce, faintly suggested "His majesty," when Washington startled them all by announcing, "The king of England—may he stay there!" with a ready wit that made even Cornwallis laugh.—Century.

Cards and Card Playing.

In a paper in the Journal of the Royal Society of Arts Professor H. Cheney, discussing the part played by gambling in magic, observes: "The use of cards is said to be derived from the Tarot cards, which were originally employed for occult purposes. The legend which ascribes the invention of cards to the purpose of amusing a mad king does not seem at all a sufficient explanation, and there is in addition the fact that cards of a kind existed before the said king. In further support of this idea the well known practice of telling fortunes by cards may probably be regarded as a survival of a regular form of divination by such means. It seems, in fact, that card playing for stakes is a mere development of a ceremony in which individuals consulting the oracle decided to abide by its pronouncements as to the holding of disputed property."

A Laboring Man's Reasons for Advocating Municipal Ownership.

To The Democrat-Forum: Believing figures to be generally uninteresting and tiresome, I will address you, using them as little as necessary. I believe that all are agreed that a good water plant, private or municipal, furnishing plenty of good water at good pressure, increases the value of property; therefore, if we have a good private water plant, property value is increased at the increased cost of water to the consumers. This increased cost is made up of the amount of taxes possible to levy under municipal ownership, outside manager's salary, state, county and city taxes, the difference between 4% and 6 per cent interest, besides other things you can find and some you cannot find. After covering all the items and at the present water rate the company admits having made almost 5 per cent on $100,000, which is considerably over their appraised value. So it is plain they made 6 per cent or more on the real value of their property. They tell you that the council has the authority under the law to regulate rates. The law does not give them the power to reduce the rates below a reasonable return on the investment. So you may be sure you are expected to cover the items mentioned, under what the property interests are pleased to call a "reasonable franchise." All this, then, consumer, you are asked to pay just for the privilege of increasing property value, thereby completely paying for a plant and not getting it. If you have no property you pay for increased value and get nothing. If you have a small assessment your increased water rates amount to more than would the taxes under municipal ownership, if levied. The law says we shall provide for the collection of an annual tax to insure a sinking fund

and interest, when needed. East St. Louis v. Amy, 129 U. S. 509.

Don't overlook the words "when needed," as that brings us back to the beginning of this letter, which implies that a municipal ownership plant necessarily increases taxation. This is not so, and without a tax increase a municipal plant can only decrease the rate to the consumer in the amount of the outside manager's salary, state, county and city taxes and other things found and not found. By keeping the water rates above the necessity of a tax the consumer will still pay for the plant. The difference is having or not having it at the end of the twenty years.

Property never will pay its way (see the law for ways of escape), and if they can't make the consumer pay for the plant and not have it, he must at least pay for it. Because of the remote possibility of a tax increase, which exists, property hides behind such phrases as "Everybody's business is nobody's business," "graft," "our town row," "If you could just keep it out of politics," "reasonable franchise," and a lot of other similar expressions that progress ignores. Property thinks it is all right for the consumer to pay its enhanced value even if he has to go without clothes to keep clean with high priced water.

"Mankind passes, property stays, And seeks to gather from the man who pays."

TRADE REVIEW FOR THE WEEK

Business Sentiment Everywhere Reported Much Improved.

ACTUAL BUSINESS PICKING UP

Wholesale Operations Include Wide Variety of Fall and Winter Goods and Orders Compare Favorably With Last Year.

New York, Aug. 19.—R. G. Dun's Weekly Review of Trade says: Sentiment is improved at Boston with a prevailing belief that business will soon be much better. Dry goods jobbers report a fair demand and orders are well distributed. Indications appear of expansion in industrial activity, although curtailment is still drastic at cotton mills. Men's wear woolen mills, however, are booking a good volume of business, shoe factories are busy and wool trading is brisk.

Slow progress is noted at Philadelphia, merchants in most lines confining their operations as much as possible to actual requirements. Manufacturers are buying cotton and woolen goods to some extent, while wool millinery sale houses are busy with preparations for fall and report inquiries very encouraging.

The wool market is more active and very firm.

With industrial plants increasing operations to a moderate extent there is more optimism in commercial lines at Pittsburgh and wholesalers of dry goods, notions and shoes receive good orders for future delivery.

Numerous visiting buyers have stimulated trade activity at Baltimore, especially in wholesale lines. Local retail merchants were well patronized, the reduced prices incidental to this season of the year attracting many buyers. The outlook for fall in the wholesale dry goods and notion market is exceptionally good. Normal conditions prevailed at New Orleans, retail trade being considered satisfactory and a good demand developing for plantation supplies. Visiting merchants are increasing in numbers at St. Louis, and while purchases are usually along conservative lines, stocks of dry goods have been considerably reduced. Retail trade improved slowly, but weather retarding business in a measure. Numerous buyers are in the different markets at Kansas City and jobbers generally report conditions excellent, with prospects for a good fall trade very encouraging.

Dealings in retail lines at Chicago were favorably stimulated by the large numbers of visitors attracted by the aviation meet. Wholesale operations include a wider variety of fall, winter and holiday goods and road and mail orders compare well with this time last year. Improvement appears in certain lines at Cincinnati, notably dry goods and groceries and there is a much better inquiry for pig iron with considerable actual business placed. Cleveland reports that trade in nearly all retail branches is slow and unsatisfactory and dealings at wholesale show no special activity. Building operations are still brisk, however, and several permits for large new structures have been issued.

Wholesale business continues quiet at Minneapolis with orders being placed for immediate requirements only. The general undertone throughout the northwest is good, however, and stocks of merchandise are not burdensome. Abundance of rain has repaired much of the early damage by drought and threshing returns are proving better than expected. Some improvement is noted in wholesale trade, the St. Paul buyers operating with more freedom in dry goods, clothing, hats and caps.

Congressman Who Asks National Conference On Problem of Divorce.

DIVORCE PROBLEM BEFORE CONGRESS

Two Resolutions Provide for National Conference.

Washington, Aug. 19.—Congress has turned its attention to the abuses that arise from the wide difference in the laws of divorce and marriage throughout the states.

Representatives George W. Norris and W. H. Howard have introduced resolutions requesting President Taft to ask the governors of the states to send representatives to a congress of delegates to be held in the hall of the house of representatives to formulate a uniform law of marriage and divorce and to submit the same to the legislatures.

It is proposed that each state be entitled to two delegates, and each delegate shall be entitled to receive his actual necessary expenses in going to, attending and returning from the sessions.

The congress shall report its findings and recommendations to the president, who shall forward the same to the states with the request to each governor that he lay the report before the legislature.

For the purpose of defraying the expense of the congress it is proposed to appropriate $200,000 or so much as may be necessary. The resolution was referred to the rules committee and if there be time will be considered at this session.

Senator C. D. Clark of Wyoming has suggested a constitutional amendment which would place the regulation of divorce with the federal government.

A severe wind storm, accompanied by sharp lightning and a deluge of rain enabled the fugitives to escape and the posse returned to Mondamin, Ia., from which place a new start will be made.

YIELDED TO EDMUNDS.

Cleveland's Political Fate Won After His Friends Had Failed.

Soon after Mr. Cleveland entered the White House in 1885 Vice President Hendricks died at his home in Indianapolis, and the president made arrangements to attend the funeral. Many of his social intimates and all his official advisers united in an effort to dissuade him from making this twenty hour journey, enlarging on the manifold risks of rail travel at all times and the special opportunity this would offer some fanatic to assassinate him. But he was undaunted and on the night within a few hours of the time set for closing up his business he received an unexpected call from Senator Edmunds of Vermont.

Mr. Edmunds was the leader of the Republican side of the senate and was understood to have in preparation several measures of opposition to the announced policies of the new administration. But he was also and above all else an American citizen and a patriot, and his visit to his political foe was made in that character. In a conversation of less than half an hour, in which he drew the curtain over all differences and disregarded all empty formalities of intercourse, he laid before the president in the clear terms and logical order in which he knew as well how to express himself the larger aspects of the situation.

As the presidential succession law then stood the speaker of the house of representatives stood next in line to the vice president, and next to him came the president pro tempore of the senate. The house not having organized since the inauguration, no speaker had been elected, and the senate having failed at its special session to choose a president pro tempore to serve during the recess, only one life—that of the president himself—stood between the nation and administrative anarchy; hence, argued Mr. Edmunds, it was Mr. Cleveland's duty to forego every other consideration and invite no chances of throwing upon the country they both loved a strain such as it had never been subjected to before.

The writer of these lines was seated in the next room while this visit was in progress, and he will never forget the president's expression of satisfaction on coming out of his office after the senator had gone. He gave orders at once that all preparations for his journey should be suspended and declared that nothing that had occurred since he entered the White House had so touched him as the kind solicitude shown by Mr. Edmunds about his exposing himself to any peril now. The others who had reasoned with him on the subject were men who were presumptively friendly and whose chief anxiety seemed to be lest he should suffer some injury to his individual person or fortunes. But here was a man who, as far as politics was concerned, was a hostile of hostiles, yet who appealed to him in behalf of the American people and their government.

"That settled it," Mr. Cleveland concluded as he turned to go back to his office. "After what Edmunds said there can be no further question of where my highest obligation lies."—F. E. L. in New York Post.

Soft Toned Bells of China.

The natives of China use large bells of their own make in many of their temples and monasteries. I have noticed all through Japan and China that the tone of the monastery and temple bells is very soft and smooth, due to the superior quality of the material used in their manufacture and to the absence of iron clappers, the result being a marvelous softness and mellowness of tone. The bells are never swung, being always suspended in a fixed frame, and the sound is produced by striking them on the outer edge with a wooden mallet. This makes the soft tones which are so delightfully melodious.—Consular Reports.

"Forewarned is forearmed," he said with a bow.

Flies and Filth.

The fly is born in, lives and thrives upon filth. If no filth is allowed to accumulate in a house or its neighborhood it will not be troubled by flies, for they do not ordinarily stray far from their breeding places and their sources of food. In a thoroughly clean neighborhood they cannot live in the face of screens preventing their access to food and to the absence of manure heaps and other receptacles for filth in which to deposit their eggs.—Survey.

HOUSE FAILS TO OVERRIDE VETOES

Wool Bill is Killed by Vote of 227 to 126.

FREE LIST LOSES, 226 TO 127

President Declares It is impossible to Tell What Articles Are Covered. Tariff Board Had No Opportunity to Report on Schedules.

Washington, Aug. 19.—After a long debate on a motion to pass the wool tariff revision bill over President Taft's veto, the house failed to pass the measure by the necessary two-thirds vote, the result being 227 to 129. This kills the wool bill.

President Taft's message, vetoing the farmers' free list bill, was read in the house. The president declared in his message that the bill was so carelessly drawn that it was uncertain just what articles were covered by it. He sharply criticized every section of the bill and declared the language too ambiguous to be practicable.

Mr. Taft objected to the principle in the bill which admits raw materials free and keeps the machinery necessary to a finished product on the dutiable list. Lastly, the president based his veto on the fact that the tariff board had no opportunity to report on the schedules affected by it.

The house failed to pass the free list bill over the president's veto, the vote being 226 to 127.

The Flood-Smith statehood resolution with the Arizona judiciary recall provision eliminated and with changes in New Mexico's constitution to make it easier of amendment was passed by the senate, 53 to 8.

WILEY CASE TO GO OVER

President Will Not Act Until After Congress Adjourns.

Washington, Aug. 19.—President Taft does not expect to settle the Wiley case before the adjournment of the present session of congress.

The closing days of the session have presented to him so many important matters that he has been unable to take up the case in detail. If adjournment comes within a few days the papers in the Wiley case will be taken by the president to Beverly.

He intends to read all the testimony offered before the house committee which is investigating the department of agriculture and other information bearing on the case which is available.

That there might be some criticism of officials of the department other than Dr. Wiley is the belief here.

All records of the department of agriculture embracing copies of pure food decisions or regulations changed through the protests of interested manufacturers will be called for by the committee.

Dr. Wiley, who made the request for the records, explained they were official printed regulations and decisions which had later been withdrawn and changed after the interested parties, the food manufacturers, had protested against them.

Watson Confesses He Held Up Overland Limited.

Denver, Aug. 19.—A prisoner in the Denver county jail giving the name of Frank M. Watson has confessed that he with two companions held up the Southern Pacific Overland Limited at Reese, Utah, on the night of Jan. 1, when William Davis, a negro porter, was killed and nearly 100 passengers were relieved of their valuables.

According to police authorities, Watson says his accomplices were Joseph Collins of Omaha and R. M. Roberts of Mullen, Neb. It is stated that Watson has confessed complicity in the robbery of the Oregon Short Line Butte-Portland special three miles west of Ogden on the morning of June 27, 1910.

BRITISH CITIES ARMED CAMPS

Railroads Trying to Move Trains Under Protection of Troops.

TRAFFIC BADLY DEMORALIZED.

Many Thousand Men Remain at Work but They Are Unable to Handle the Business—Riots Reported in Four Cities.

Progress of Labor War.

Scores of thousands of railway men in the United Kingdom are on strike.

The movement threatens to cripple 23,000 miles of steam railways.

Neither managers or employees seem disposed to deviate from their ultimatums.

Passenger traffic in London and other centers is demoralized; freight traffic throughout the kingdom is hampered.

Liverpool's steamship service is at a standstill.

Sporadic rioting occurred in various English cities and in Wales.

Troops everywhere are ready to quell disturbances.

Parliament remains in session because of the strike.

Scarcity of food is causing prices to advance.

The railways employ 500,000 men whose average weekly wage is less than $4.

London, Aug. 19.—The fight between the railroad companies and the striking union employees is on in earnest. Thousands have obeyed the strike order and other thousands have continued at work. The companies are operating their principal trains under modified schedules.

The government and the board of trade are continuing their efforts to ward peace, but the old deadlock between the unions and the managers appears to have reasserted itself.

The managers had a prolonged meeting with members of the board of trade, but as far as it is learned the railroad companies declined to budge from their stand of making no further concession beyond submitting the dispute to the royal commission suggested by the government.

The cities of England are armed camps. The stations, workshops, signal posts, tunnels and bridges are guarded by soldiers. Clerks have been pressed into service to aid the non-strikers in moving the trains. Despite the efforts of the companies freight traffic is demoralized and the shortage of food supplies threatens a famine at some points.

There has been rioting at Birmingham, Derby, Sheffield and at Llanelly, Wales.

The government views the industrial war as so grave that Parliament did not adjourn as has been expected but will continue prepared to adopt any emergency legislation the moment it is necessary.

The trains in London were moving occasionally, but had scarcely any effect in reducing the mass of would-be travelers. Thousands living outside were unable to get home. The strike committee has decided to pay the strikers $2.50 a week.

NEW ALTITUDE MARK

Aviator Brindley Bears 11,700 Feet in Air at Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—Oscar A. Brindley soared higher in the air than any aeroplane ever has been and set a new world's record of 11,786 feet. Philip O. Parmelee followed him, passing the former American record and reached 10,827 feet before he was forced to descend.

James Ward and Earle Ovington flying at comparatively low levels both had narrow escapes from death. The propeller of Ward's machine broke into a hundred pieces as he flew before the grand stand and pieces of wood tore the canvas, but the aviator held tight and brought his machine wobbling to the ground. Ovington with his engine stopped, not quite able to reach shore, found a landing place in five feet of water, from which he escaped with no other injury than a ducking.

PRISONER OF HATE RELEASED

Woman Serves Twenty-Nine Days to Save Money for Willow Plume.

St. Louis, Aug. 19.—After being a voluntary prisoner of hate in the Clayton jail for twenty-nine days rather than pay $1 fine and $28.95 costs for pulling another woman's hair, Mrs. Ethel Maria was released.

"I'll get that willow plume in time to wear it Sunday," Mrs. Maria said to the other women prisoners as she bade them good-by.

Throughout her term of imprisonment, which separated her from her husband and her two small children, she was sustained by the thought of "that willow plume." When the judge gave her the alternative of going to jail or paying the fine, she said: "I'll go to jail and save the money for a willow plume."

She would not let her mother or her husband pay the fine.

OSLER RIGHT; YOUTH SUCCEEDS AGE

Gray Hair Is First Sign of Age.
Harmless Remedy Restores to Natural Color.

Osler isn't the only man who turns down old age. In the business world the "young man" is always the one who picks the plums. It is an age of "new thought," "new talent," etc., and the old man is passed by in the race.

One of the first signs of coming age is the appearance of gray hairs. When you see them, act promptly. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will correct this sign, which so often deceives people into thinking that age is really upon them. It is a well-known fact that Sage and Sulphur will darken the hair. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur combines these old-time remedies with other agents, which remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize the druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, Koch Pharmacy.
